

CREDIT CARD MANAGEMENT SYSTEMAbstract

A method and system for managing credit card transactions. The method includes obtaining authorization for transactions to be made with a credit card from a credit card 5 account holder, each of the transactions having one or more definable limitations set by the account holder, and authorizing actual transactions initiated with the credit card which conform to the limitation set for the authorized transactions. The system includes a transaction limiter for limiting the approval of actual transactions initiated with a credit card to those conforming to authorized transactions developed by a credit card account 10 holder.